

Tell Tale Hearts

PRESS RELEASE FOR:

BENEATH THE WAVES

A magical journey of discovery for young children

A magical, highly engaging theatre experience for children aged between 3 and 7 that combines puppetry, video animation and some live music with mesmerising interactive installations to explore the enchanting world beneath the waves.

The participation element of the show brings the world of the sea to the children's fingertips as they physically climb aboard and set sail. So be prepared to walk the plank, dive into the ocean and meet a family of cheeky toe-pinching crabs as you voyage with Barnacle Bill.

Beneath the Waves was piloted in Yorkshire during autumn 2006. The pilot tour included touring to schools, theatres and rural venues. The national tour for spring and autumn 2007 includes venues such as Bath Theatre Royal, Warwick Arts Centre and Rural Touring.

“I was enthralled by the show.”

- Nick White, Education Officer, Bath Theatre Royal

A MAXIMUM OF 50 PER PERFORMANCE

The Company Tell Tale Hearts devise and deliver participatory touring theatre productions exclusively for primary children and younger years in schools and theatres.

The company prides itself in taking the audience to a magical world which they can explore and experience in their own unique way and aims to help raise the profile of theatre experiences for early years.
